MEIE
2021

MEIE is an annual event since 2018, aims to provide platform for scholars and researchers from the field of mechanical/electric/industrial engineering, to exchange their experiences, share latest findings and promote global collaborations.

The proceedings included 505 articles, were successfully indexed by EI, Scopus.

Topics included but not limited to

Mechanical Engineering

- Biomechanics / Robots / Applied Mechanics...
- CAD/CAM/CIM / Machinery and Machine Design...

Electric Engineering

- Microelectronics / Power System Analysis...
- Electronic Circuits / HVDC Transmission Technology...

Industrial Engineering

- Ergonomics / Industrial Simulation...
- Process Engineering / Manufacturing System Engineering...

Keynote Speeches

Prof. Nadar Asnafi

Mechanical Engineering, Örebro University, Sweden

Prof. Jianfu Zhao

Institute of Mechanics, Chinese Academy of Sciences (CAS),
China

Prof. Weidong Zhu

Department of Mechanical Engineering, University of Maryland, Baltimore County, USA

If you are interested in above speeches / delivering your latest lectures / submitting academic papers, please feel free to contact us. We are expecting more experts and participants from academia to join MEIE2021.
